A TORNADO

Leaves Death and Destruction in Its Wake in Kansas.

The Principal Business Street of Wellington, Kan., in Ruins.

Fire Adds to the Horror of the Situation Hundreds of Dwellings Totally Destroyed or Damaged—A Large Num-ber of People Killed and Injured.

WELLINGTON, May 28 .- The city had a visitation Friday night, from the funnel-shaped cloud, which plowed its devastating track through the business part of the town, with immense destruction of property and some loss of life, just how many it is impossible to tell at this writing. A heavy storm of wind preceded the tornado about half an hour. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the tornado struck the city, coming from the southwest. There were no premonitory signs. Everybody was in doors, and the cloud passed with its destructive rush and awful roar un-

Washington avenue, the principal business street, is lined on both sides for blocks with ruins. To add to the horror fire broke out among the debris of Col. Robinson's block, and a woman, Mrs. Susan Ashor, is supposed to have perished in the flames. A solid block of brick buildings containing a half dozen stores and the Monitor Press and Voice printing offices, lies a tumbled heap of bricks and mortar. Just across the street a laborer named Fanning was taken out of the ruins, and there are supposed to be other bodies in them. Hundreds of dwellings are either totally destroyed or more or less damaged. The city is in darkness, as broken mains made it necessary to shut down the gas works and save destruction from fire. Hon. James Lawrence, candidate for attorney general, had an arm broken. Walter Forsthen was taken from the ruins dangerously injured, and his brother Ed was heard calling for an hour before his release.

Seven bodies have been taken out of the Phillips house ruins, and a large force of men is at work removing the debris. Two members of the Salvation army are expected to die of the injuries received. At 'Squire Smith's residence seven persons are more or less injured. The streets are littered with tin roofing, cloth awnings and broken timbers. Everybody is on the streets carrying lanterns, and it is utterly impossible to get at the exact facts.

The destruction is simply awful, and every minute adds to the horror of the situation. The Standard and Mail offices are wrecked. The opera house and dozens of the best business buildings are useless. Fine school buildings and churches are ruined, and the loss will foot up many thousands of dollars. No reports have been received from other points. Wellington is the county seat of Sumner county, and has a population of over ten thousand inhabitants. It is in the center of a thickly settled agricultural district. It is the most prominent town in southern Kansas.

Silva and Walter Forsythe were taken out of the ruins of Conrads' restaurant in a dying condition, and have since died. Ida Jones was one of the killed in the wreck of the Phillips house. The destruction south of Harvey avenue was comparatively insignificant, and no lives have been lost in that section so so far as is known.

Grand Army hall has been converted into a hospital, and there are now there fifty killed and injured.

BRIGGS' CASE.

The Doctor Greeted With Flowers When He Appears.

A Column of Roses Fully Five Feet High is Placed on His Desk.

Strong Movement to Refer the Case Back to the New York Presbytery So That It Can Come Up on Its Merits Before the Doctor's Peers.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 28 .- A floral column of red roses, fully five feet high, was placed Friday upon the desk occupied by Dr. Briggs, in the Presbyterian general assembly. The column was surmounted by a white dove with outstretched wings. His case is still on. The lines in the appeal cases are being drawn more closely, and men who have no sympathy with the views of Dr. Briggs are joining in opposition to the through the assembly.

When such men as Elder Junkin and Dr. McPherson join together in an avowed attempt to conserve the constitutional rights of the individual, that union is significant. There is an effort on foot to proceed with the case to an end. This was evidenced by a remark of a prominent commissioner: "We want to decide this case and set this man adrift in the wilderness." With others is a conviction that the assembly is going too fast and making precedents with too much speed and without sufficient deliberation. A peculiar incident occurred in the afternoon. Dr. Birch was reading his paper supporting the appeal, and quoting certain words uttered by members of the presbytery of New York at the Briggs trial, when a commissioner raised a point of order "that it is improper to read these extracts, lest commissioners here present may be thereby influenced." At the afternoon session Elder Junkin, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution to bring matters before the court to a close. He proposed to reverse the decision of the presbytery, send back the papers, and direct the presbytery of New York to try the case upon its merits, without prejudice to either party. He declared the assembly can not try the case at this session upon its merits. The action of the presbytery was unjust to defendant-he ought to have had an opportunity to stand before his peers and assert and prove his innocence of the charges.

Dr. Briggs stated he would personally e willing to confess judgment upon two points in the appeal, and would do so later on in consultation with members of the presbytery. Col. McCook stated the appeal must be sustained, the decision of the presbytery reversed and the presbytery directed to try the case on its merits. On these grounds the prosecuting committee would be glad to accept the proposal.

Upon the return of the conferees Dr. Briggs stated that he agreed to Junkin's resolution, but objection was entered by the prosecuting committee, and the moderator ruled that the case must proceed. Then Dr. Birch went over the grounds of the appeal and specification thereunder. When the reading was concluded. Dr. Briggs was heard for an hour in rebuttal. It was evidently desired by a very large part of the house that the case be remanded, but this was thwarted by the refusal of the prosecutors to consent. The proposition to sustain the appeal pro forma elicited a vigorous negative headshaking by Dr. Birch. Mr. McCook said that the question was a dismissal or a full sustaining of the appeal; pro forma action was not desired. A mandatory order for the reception of delegates from other denominations temporarily postponed the case of appeal.

LARGEST EVER HELD.

The Great Importance of the Nicaranga Canal Convention.

New York, May 28.-Ex-Congressman George West, of the Saratoga district was appointed a delegate of the New York board of trade and transportation to the Nicaragua canal convention, which is to be held next Thursday at St. Louis. Other delegates are Capt. Ambrose Snow, Jordan L. Mott and John F. Henry. "It will be the largest convention representing the commercial interests of the July 15. country ever held in the United States.' said Mr. West. "Its main object is to advise and consider the prompt construction of the canal under the government of the United States. Anyhow, no matter how it is constructed -and constructed it certainly will be-the mercantile interests look at the convention through mercantile spectacles, A sailing vessel now has to take a course of 15,660 miles to go from New York to San Francisco. If the Nicaragua canal was in existence the distance would be just 10,758 miles resolute effort of some to force it less. A vessel going from Liverpool to San Francisco has forty miles less course to go over than the vessel from New York. Yet via the canal the vessel going from New York to San Francisco would have a course of only 4,907 miles and the Liverpool vessel 7,627."

A SHIP RAILWAY

To Connect Lakes Huron and Ontario-Ca. nadian Capitalists Have a Great Project in Mind.

TORONTO, Ont., May 28.-Recent action at Washington looking to the enlargement of the American canal system seems to had the effect of urging Canadians to increase their advantages in competing for the immense traffic of the lakes. A strong company of Canadian capitalists has been formed here to carry offt the plan of building a ship railway to connect lakes Huron and Ontario. The company has secured the services of E. L. Corthell, a Chicago engineer, and has reported favorably on the practicability of the proposed railway. The route of sixtysix miles from Toronto to Collingwood is, he says, well adopted for a railway. He is satisfied that a road can be constructed for between $15,000,000 and $16,000,000, capable of conveying vessels of 5,000 tons between the two

Probably the Dominion and Ontario governments will grant subsidies to the work, and the managing director of the company will go to England to try and raise money there.
